In case of dispute or complaint concerning the prizes awarded, applications must be submitted in writing to the attention of Columbia Sportswear, either by mail or by email at the addresses mentioned in the preamble, within seven (7) days after receiving the confirmation of the prize, subject to the provisions of Article 3.4 above.

Each Participant agrees in case of difficulties that may arise regarding the application or interpretation of the Regulation, to make an amicable appeal to Columbia Sportswear prior to any legal action against them.

The Regulation is subject to Swiss law. In case no amicable solution would be found between Participant(s) and Columbia Sportswear, any dispute arising out of this Regulation shall be submitted to the ordinary courts in Switzerland.

Article 8: Personal data

Under the Federal Act on Data Protection of June 19th, 1992 related to data, files and liberties, as well as all the texts related to the implementation of the provisions laid down therein, the Participant is informed that all the information requested within the Game entry form are mandatory, and referred to as such, and that a failure to reply to those questions by the Participant forbids him any participation in the Game.

It is recalled that the entry form requests the names, surnames and personal email address. These data are collected by default to ensure the smooth progress of the Game Contest in its entirety, at the express acceptance of these Rules Participant. The data will be deleted in the following three months at the term of the Game Contest, unless the Participant expressly said otherwise.

Therefore the collected data is transmitted only to Columbia Sportswear as well as to the agency Vanksen established in Luxembourg in its capacity as a subcontractor of the organization of the Game.

Any Participant also has rights of access, rectification, supplementation, update, and data erasing or blocking for the entire period of validity of the Game Contest, by contacting Columbia Sportswear via email.

It is stated in this regard that any request for deletion of such data by any means during the Game Contest duration might cancel the Game Contest entry.

In case the Participant explicitly expressed its willingness to receive the Columbia Sportswear's Newsletter, the transmitted data will be collected by Vanksen for the purpose of surveys, analyses or in commercial operations for Columbia Sportswear, its subsidiaries, its sales network and/or any company offering a service for Columbia Sportswear's account.

Consequently and in conformity with the above law, the Participant has the right to access, modify and withdraw any data concerning him or her, by requesting it to Columbia Sportswear.

Article 9: Electronic Evidence Convention

Columbia Sportswear is entitled, in particular for the purposes of proving any act, fact or omission, of the programs, data, files, recordings, operations and other elements of nature in computerized/electronic format or media, established, received or retained directly or indirectly by the company or by Participants, unless abuse or manifest error.

The Participants undertake not to contest the admissibility, validity or probative force elements of nature of above computerized/electronic format or media, on the basis of any legal provision whatsoever and which specifies that certain documents must be written or signed by the parties to constitute proof.

Thus, the elements considered constitute proof and, if produced as evidence by Columbia Sportswear in any litigation or else, they are admissible, valid and enforceable between the parties in the same way under the same conditions and with the same probative force as any document created, received or kept in writing.

Article 10: Regulation deposit

This Regulation shall be filed in English with Columbia Sportswear International services at 12 Avenue des Morgines - 1213 Petit-Lancy - Switzerland and is available within the dedicated application.

The Regulation of the Game Contest can be obtained for free by writing to Columbia Sportswear, within one (1) Regulation per Participant (stamp refunded to the enforced rate at the joint request).

The request must mention the title of the Game Contest and the name, surname and email address of the applicant.

The version filed by Columbia Sportswear prevails over reports on any medium and in contradiction with this Regulation.
